VOTERS READY WIELD POWER

TEXAS DEMOCRATS MAKING DRIVE FOR BIG VOTE TUESDAY

PARTY LEADERS SEEK RECORD VOTE TO SAFEGUARD CONVENTION VOTES

AUSTIN, Nov. 2.—(AP)—Texas democrats, admittedly the winner in Tuesday's general election, sought today to bring out a record vote to safeguard their representation in national conventions.

Governor Allred and Roy Miller, state chairman of the national campaign, urged county chairmen "to get out the vote" Tuesday in hopes of casting nearly a million Democratic ballots.

Allred forecast a million votes if Democrats "do their duty." Miller, who also foresaw a possible million votes, announced more than $200,000 of Texas' $250,000 national campaign fund quota was subscribed, and urged leaders to conduct a final drive today to achieve the quota.

General election apathy apparently was widespread, except in a few instances where local issues resulted in heavy absentee balloting. Absentee voting generally gave little indication of how many votes Texans would cast.

Primary Vote Over Million.

In 1932 Texas cast 849,986 votes for major party candidates, 753,304 for Roosevelt and 96,682 for Hoover. In last July's Democratic primary 1,071,372 votes, an all-time record, were cast.

Republicans were hopeful of winning at least one congressional race, that of Ernest W. Clemens, who opposed Rey Maury Faverlck of the San Antonio district. Clements had the added support of the Jeffersonian Democrats, bitter New Deal opponents.

R. B. Creager, Republican national committeeman, said Texas after this year would be definitely a two-party state, although he had small hopes of a Landon victory in Texas which has gone Republican only once since the Civil War. Herbert Hoover was given a majority over Alfred E. Smith in 1928.

Six Amendments.

D. O Harris of San Angelo, Republican; Carl Brannin of Dallas, socialist, and Homer Brooks, communist, oppose Allred, Democratic incumbent. The Unionists and Prohibitionists failed to name a gubernatoral candidate.

Six proposed amendments to the state constitution will be up for the electorate's consideration

Little interest was shown in a proposal to create a state liquor monopoly Texas repealed statewide prohibition last year

Allred actively urged adoption of a proposal to limit the governor's clemency powers through a board of pardons and paroles Six former governors also endorsed this proposal

Other proposed amendments would create a retirement fund for public school teachers, authorize workmen's compensation for state employes, raise the salaries of the governor and certain other state officials, and limit the legislative representation of any county to seven unless the county had 800,000 residents or more

REPRESENTATIVES OF SAILORS UNION WALK OUT ON COMMISSION

DECLARE WILL NOT SUBMIT CONTROVERSIAL ISSUES IN FEDERAL PROBE

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2.—(AP)—Representatives of the Sailors' Union of the Pacific walked out of a maritime commission hearing today, declaring they would not submit controversial issues in the wide-spread martitime strike.

Attorneys for the other unions then withdrew from the hearing, but did not register protests at the procedure.

The representatives Harry Lundenberg, secretary of the union, and Attorneys Aaron and Milton Sapiro, informed Rear Admiral Harry G. Hamlett they objected to opening the statements as the hearing opened.

"This is a fact finding commission," Aaron Sapiro declared. "We are not submitting controversial issues, opening statements are fully out of line. This is an invesigation."

"Mr. Sapiro, if there is anything in your mind regarding controversial issues and procedure in this fact finding hearing the hearing will be open at all times to record your objections."

"If the court proceeds by swearing in witnesses," Sapiro replied, "it will remove all doubts that this is a battle of lawyers and by swearing in witnesses at once it will be in line with your statement of last Monday as to the hearing being a fact finding body."

Hamlet then told Sapiro to sit down and asked Gregory Harrison, attorney for the shipowners and employers, to make his opening statement and Sapiro asked

Associated Press Ready to Report Election Stories

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—(AP)—All employes of the Associated Press received the following from Kent Cooper, general manager:

"Guard against predictions, hasty conclusions, or anonymous expressions of opinion.

"But we want all the news. Write what can be substantiated. Do not withold a story because it is partisan, if it is news and may be attributed to a responsible source. Statements election night from political headquarters, for example, are desired if they contain news and are accredited to party spokesmen. These statements must speak for themselves, and their leads should be brief, without inference, deductions or other editorial comment.

"In reporting the election, as at all other times, the Associated Press must be fair, truthful and impartial."

KERENS COMMUNITY FAIR SUCCESSFUL IN SPITE OF WEATHER

LARGE CROWDS AND FINE EXHIBITS MARKED 1936 EDITION OF FAIR

KERENS, Nov. 2.—(Spl.)—The final curtain was drawn on the 1936 Kerens Community Fair Saturday night at 12 o'clock. The fair was a success, although inclement weather marred the first two days of fair activities, necessitating the elimination of the well planned mammoth parade scheduled for Tuesday.

Large crowds were on hand Thursday, Friday and Saturday for the special attractions offered in the exhibition halls and on the Midway. Thursday the State Home band of Corsicana entertained fair visitors.

Friday was music day; a singing convention was held on the fair grounds. J. O. Sessions, president of the East Texas Singing convention, arranged for the appearance of the Stamps Quartet of Dallas, a special trio as representative of the Hartford Music of Dallas, and singers from Navarro, Henderson, Smtih, Van Zandt, Ellis and Kaufman.

Friday was also baby day in that a Baby parade entertained fair visitors for considerable time Friday afternoon. Prizes were offered for most original costumes and the most graceful child from 1 to 5 years of age.

Saturday night's special attraction was a dance recital by the pupils of Miss Linda Sims.

Continuous rodeo performances under the management of H. W. Greenwood furnished another favorable atraction. Brahmas steers were imported from New Mexico and Louisiana. This attraction was one of the outstanding features of the fair and large crowds were on hand for each performance.

Judging took place Friday with Kerens winning first prize in the F. F. A. exhibits and Bazette first place in Community exhibits. Numerous prizes were awarded in the culinary, and needlecraft departments and for individual agricultural products. The fair was directly under the management of R. H. Mays and Roy Cloud.

WITH ROOSEVELT MOTOR TOUR IN NEW YORK STATE, Nov. 2.—(AP)—President Roosevelt set out today on a 60-mile drive around home neighborhood counties in a final effort to win the Empire State.

Up and down both banks of the Hudson he had charted an election eve campaign embracing his home county of Duchess and neighboring counties of Ulster and Orange

Starting from his ancestral home in the village of Hyde Park, where he and members of the family will vote tomorrow morning in the town hall, he pointed the motorcade southward to Beacon; thence by ferry to the western shore town of Newburgh; northward through Milton, Marlboro, Hibrland and Kingston; back to the east bank towns of Rhinecliff and Rhinebeck.

Tonight he will close his reelection speech-making with a 9:00 o'clock talk to neighbors from a hotel balcony in Poughkeepsie and a 15-minute national radio appeal from his study at Hyde Park.

Landon Works On Final Broadcast Speech Tonight

TOPEKA, Kas., Nov. 2.—(AP)—Gov. Alf M. Landon said today "the plain inference" of President Roosevelt's Madison Square Garden speech was that "you're going to have the NRA, the AAA and everything else all over again."

The republican presidential nominee made the statement in a press conference when reporters asked whether he thought his democratic opponent's Saturday night address answered the questions he put to him in the same hall last Thursday.

"The speech speaks for itself," Landon replied. "It doesn't specifically answer my questions. The plain inference is that you're going to have the NRA, the AAA and everything else all over again."

"What about the president's desire to be master of business?" a reporter asked.

"That's what I meant," Landon replied.

He said he was leaving at midnight for Independence and would vote soon after leaving his train there at 8 a. m. (CST) tomorrow.

"You are going to vote early and often," a newsman said.

"Well, as often as they'll let me," Landon grinned.

Before leaving, Landon will make a final radio broadcast at 9:40 p. m.

After voting at Independence, with Mrs. Landon and his father, John M. Landon, the republican

His Majesty, King Turkey, Not Quite So High This Year

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—(AP)—His Majesty, the big brown turkey on this year's Thanksgiving table, may be 4 to 8 per cent cheaper than a year ago if the current price relationship on the Chicago wholesale market remains unchanged.

Comparison of turkey prices on the week-old dressed market today showed 1 to 2 cents a pound has been lopped off the bird's value since the 1935 season.

The largest turkey crop on record is now being fattened for the fall and winter trade poultry authorities said. This, in addition to the fact that there is a heavy supply of other poultry in storage was largely responsible for the lower price, they said.

INSURGENT PLANES DROP BOMBS TODAY ON MADRID SUBURB

THREE CHILDREN KILLED IN AIR RAID; REBELS CREEPING NEARER CAPITAL

By The Associated Press.

Insurgent warplanes today dropped bombs over suburban Vallecas, about two and one-half miles from Madrid, as the civil war neared the capital from three sides.

Three children were killed; eight adults wounded.

Government commanders evacuated the civil population from Getafe, another Madrid suburb, and hurled fresh reinforcements into the defense lines.

Gen. Jose Varela's insurgent forces captured Brunete, 17 miles west of Madrid, after taking three other towns—Villa Mantilla, Sevilla La Nueva and Nueva de Perales—in bitter fighting.

The insurgent command reported at least 500 government troops were killed in the capture of the four villages and in a futile counter-attack at Parla, south of the capital.

The government said fighting was continuing on both sides of the Guadlajara highroad, about 15 miles northeast of Madrid in the Siguenza sector.

Suburbs Are Attacked

GETAFE, Spain, Nov. 2.—(AP)—Insurgent artillery shelled suburban Leganes with heavy fire today shortly after fascist war planes killed three children and injured eight adults at Valecas.

Leganes, terminal of one of Madrid's suburban street car lines, was also attacked from the air but suffered slight damage.

The insurgent planes visited the capital four times during the day but dropped no bombs on the central part of the city.

Cold Wave Late But Expected Be Worst of Season

By The Associated Press

A chill wind swept toward Texas from the north today bearing subfreezing temperatures toward the Panhandle.

Forecasts indicated the frigid wave would spread over nearly the entire state tomorrow and voters would go to the polls in the teeth of a "blue norther."

The Dallas weather bureau issued livestock warnings for the northern portions of West Texas today.

Dr. J. L. Cline, meteorologist in charge said thermometers would drop to between 22 and 30 degrees tonight and the southern portion would be much colder tomorrow.

Amarillo braced for the shock of the cold though mercuries stood early today at a minimum of 50. Observers there said they expected a temperature of 20 degrees.

Weathermen said a low barometer area over Kansas was bringing the rush of frigid air from Canada.

STRONG EXPRESSIONS OF CONFIDENCE COME FROM PARTY LEADERS

RECORD-SMASHING VOTE IS ANTICIPATED AS BOTH SIDES WORK FRANTICALLY

(By The Associated Press)

Across the vast expanse of America, the tumult over gigantic issues died away today as the nations only sovereign—the voter—prepared to weild the scepter and decide tomorrow who shall head his government.

From both major parties, as almost always, came strong expressions of confidence, while all hands, from presidential candidates down to the lowliest ward worker, concentrated on one eleventh-hour task:

"Get out the vote." was the injunction heard on all sides. The efforts of the party workers, combined with the more-than-usual natural interest in the issues, still indicated a record-smashing vote, possibly 45,000,000, desuite ominous word from the weather bureau that a cold rain or snow might blanket much of the United States on election day.

Farley Predicts "Sweep"

James A. Farley national chairman, headed the democratic-prognosticators, with a declaration it would be a "sweep" giving President Roosevelt a bigger electoral margin than 1932 when he captured 472 of the 531 votes in the electoral college. Farley said republicans could not rightfully "feel hopeful" in any states except Maine and Vermont.

National Chairman John D. Hamilton of the republicans came back with a declaration that without hesitation he could predict an "absolute minimum" of 320 electoral votes for Governor Alf M. Landon, only 266 being necessary to elect.

Though his more formal campaigning was over, President Roosevelt permitted himself little rest today. He planned to make a tour of his own Dutchess county, and to other New York counties, and to the nation from Hyde Park.

Landon Completes Campaign.

His 20,000-mile trek through the nation finished, Governor Landon rested at Topeka, Kas., before beginning the final campaign activities. He will make a 15-minute address to the nation tonight, then entrain for his home town of Independence, where he will vote. By tomorrow night he will be back in Topeka to receive the returns.

The vice presidential nominees also were on home ground to await election returns. Colonel Frank Knox, finishing a 24,000-mile tour, reached Chicago with a statement that it was apparent from Mr. Roosevelt's utterances that there would be "four more years of dictation" if the President "should happen to be re-elected."

Vice-President Garner, who made only one speech on a nation-wide hookup during the campaign, planned to get the returns

LAW CATCHES UP WITH ESCAPED CONVICT WHO WENT STRAIGHT IN SEVENTEEN YEARS; MERCY PLEA

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—(AP)—Howard Fulger's loyal wife drafed a plea to the governor of Michigan today in hope of circumventing the fate which, after 17 years, brought Fulger's arrest as an escaped convict.

Detectives found him Saturday, working as an engineer in a Gold Coast apartment building where he had been employed nine years as "Howard H. Law."

They said authorities at the Jackson, Mich., prison knew him as No. 11-109, one of a dozen convicts who fled in 1919 after tunneling their way to freedom.

Two months later, Fulger related yesterday, he married Mrs. Elizabeth Hare, a widow who, at 69, is 13 years his senior.

"For myself I care little," he said. "But it is tragedy for my wife. I never had told her the story. I hoped it never would be necessary."

"I won't let you go back," she declared. "We'll get lawyers."

But Fulger dissented. "We have so little money," he said, "you'll need it all."

"First of all," Mrs. Fulger insisted, "we must write to the governor of Michigan and beg for mercy."

Fulger related that in 1917 he was sentenced to serve ten to 20 years in prison, charged with an offense against his step-daughter. He insisted he was convicted because of "deluded" testimony by his first wife, who, he said, had been sent to insane asylums twice before and once after their marriage.

Tenants of the building where Fulger worked rallied to his aid. "Prisons are supposed to be for reforming criminals," said one, George Wilson, a broker. "If this man ever was a criminal, he has

35 REGISTERED FOR CRIPPLED CHILDREN CLINIC HERE MONDAY

DR. SIM DRIVER, OF DALLAS, WAS IN CHARGE OF EXAMINATIONS

Thirty-five children from Navarro, Ellis, and Hill counties had been registered for the Crippled Children's Clinic at the educational building of the First Methodist Church at noon Monday, and a large number of additional patients were anticipated during the afternoon as gloomy weather conditions in the morning gave way to spasmodic sunshine.

Dr. Sim Driver of Dallas, one of the southwest's leading orthopedic surgeons, was in charge of the examinations, assisted by a staff of local physicians and representatives of the Texas Society for Crippled Children, Inc., and members of the Crippled Childrens' division, State Department of Education.

By 9 a. m. Monday about fifteen patients had appeared for the clinic and others came in steadily up to the noon hour. They were made comfortable in improvised waiting rooms and supplied with lunches through the co-operation of various Corsicana churches and organizations.

Dr. Driver was assisted in the examinations by Mrs. I. A. Smith of Austin, nurse on the staff of the State department of educa-

GO WEST, YOUNG WOMAN, AND RUN SHEEP RANCH, IS ADVICE OF PRETTY WOMAN WHO KNOWS

HELENA, Mont., Nov. 2.—(AP)—Go West, young woman, and run a sheep ranch, pert, blonde Mrs. Hathleen Nielsen, advised today.

"It's not a crazy idea. I mean it," the attractive secretary-treasurer of the Montana Wool Growers' Association insisted.

"Obviously, I don't mean all young women. I'm talking about some of those intelligent, well-equipped eastern college women, who happen to be just plain bored, or who are seeking an interesting career, with profits.

"I think a lot of them could come out here and make a go of sheep ranching. Lots of Montana women are doing it and liking it."

Mrs. Nielsen backs her theory with her own dollars. She recently bought some purebread sheep, and a friend is running them for her on a southwestern Montana ranch.

"It's a small start, but someday I hope to have a real herd and a ranch of my own."

Women ranchers, she explained, can't do the ranch labor men perform, "but intelligent women, with enough resources to make a start, have every reason to hope for success in sheep ranching, if they'd go at it the same way they go at becoming successful in a lot of other business enterprises."

CONGRESSIONAL CANDIDATES IN TEXAS SPENT LITTLE IN RACES; TEXAS DEMOCRATS ARE LIBERAL

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—(AP)—Congressional records showed today that candidates for Texas' house seats spent little the last few months. Incumbents reported almost no outlays to the clerk of the house.

The records also showed dozens of Texas democrats contributed at least $500 to their party's campaign, while only about a dozen republicans made such donations.

The largest listed expenditure of either party in a congressional race was in the San Antonio district. There, Ernest W. Clemens listed contributions of $3,310, of which the national republican committee and state committee contributed $1,000 each. Clemens' report listed expenditures of $2,719.42. A $750 payment was listed as having been made to oMnte Barret, his campaign manager.

No Reportable Expenses.

These democratic house members reported no contributions or expenditures that have to be reported to Washington: Martin Dies, Wright Patman, Morgan Sanders, Hatton Sumners, Luther Johnson, Nat Patton, James P. Buchanan, Fritz Lanham, W. D. McFarlane, Milton West, R. E. Thomason, Marvin Jones, George Mahon and Maury Maverick. No reports had been filed five days before the Nov. 3 election by Representatives Richard M. Kleberg, Charles South and Sam Rayburn.

Representative J. J. Mansfield reported no contributions but expeniture of $54.40. Al Thomas of Houston, Clyde Garrett of Eastland and Robert Poage of Waco, all democratic nominees for vacated posts, also reported neither no nations nor expenditures.

Ross E. Johnson of Commerce told the government he spent $310

AMERICAN SEAMAN IN GERMAN PRISON WANTS COME HOME

CONSULAR AUTHORITIES AID IN PLEA FOR PARDON IN BERLIN

BERLIN, Nov. 2.—(AP)—Lawrence B. Simpson, the American seaman under three years sentence to a German prison for sedition, today petitioned the ministry of justice to pardon him and send him home.

United States consular authorities, who transmitted the petition, added a memorandum supporting the plea.

Simpson said he did not realize the extent to which he interferred with politics n another country, stated he was sorry, and asked to be permitted to leave the country.

Simpson, after spending 14 months in German concentration camps, was tried in September and given the three-year term, minus the time he already had served.

At his trial, he admitted freely that he and three German communist friends had worked in favor of a Popular Front government in Germany, and that he had smuggld anti-Nazi popaganda into the reich while a seaman on the United States liner Manhattan.

CORSICANA TEAMS RESUMED TRAINING FOR NEXT GAMES

Corsicana's battling I.O.O.F. Home Lynx eleven is the only local senior high school to play a conference game this week. The Lynx will journey to Teague Friday night to meet the hapless Lions in a district 27-B engagement. The Lynx are in second place in the percentage column of the district and apparently is the strongest obstacle standing in the way of the Ennis Lions for the district pennant.

State Home will be idle unless a warm-up game is scheduled during the week.

Corsicana Junior High Panthers meet South Waco here Thursday afternoon in the game between the only undefeated clubs in the Central Texas junior high league. Both have bowled over strong competition this season.

The Tigers meet the strong Dallas Tech eleven in Dallas Saturday night in a non-conference affair at the Cotton Bowl.

All elevens resumed training this afternoon after turing in victories last week-end. Corsicana drubbed Waxahachie, 20-6, State Home bowled over Streetman, 40-0, I. O. O. F. Home added a conference win, 13-0, over Malakoff, and the Juniors socked Temple Central, 32-0, in a league combat.

Dr. Walter Lenox Weds Albany Girl In Home Ceremony

The many Corsicana friends and acquaintances of Rev. Thomas Lenox, former pastor of the First Christian church of this city, and his family, will receive with keen interest the following account of the marriage of his son, Dr. Walter R. Lenox, as copied from the society page of the Sweetwater Reporter of Tuesday, October 27, just received by a friend of the family:

In a quiet home wedding on Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the home of the Rev. ad Mrs. Thomas Lenox, 911 Oak, parents of the bridegroom, Miss Mamie Pearl Parnell of Albany, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Parnell, and Dr. Walter R. Lenox of Keller were married in the presence of relatives of the two families.

The nuptial vows were read in an impressive ceremony by the father of the bridegroom, the Rev. Mr. Lenox, pastor of the First Christian church of Sweetwater.

The bride was becomingly gowned in an afternoon dress of opal blue velvet with black accessories. The couple was unattended. An informal reception for relatives was held immediately after the wedding and the large white wedding cake was cut by the bride. Gold and white tones predominated in the decorations and refreshment course of yellow and white ices.

Dr. and Mrs. Lenox left in the late afternoon for their home at Keller, where he is a physician. Out-of-town guests who also returned to their homes Sunday night were Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Parnell, parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Parnell, Jr., and Mrs. Moore, a sister of the bride, all of Albany; and Miss Gurthelle Lenox, sister of the groom, who is a student at Texas State College for Women at Denton, and Walter S. Grater of Louisville, Ky., an uncle of the groom.

The bride is the daughter of a pioneer family of Albany. She received her education in the Albany high school and at Texas Wesleyan College, Fort Worth, receiving her A. B. degree in 1932. For the past three years she has been physical education instructor in the Albany schools.

Dr. Lenox, only son of the Rev. and Mrs. Lenox, received his bachelor of science degree at Texas Christian University, Fort Worth, in 1928, and taught in the Albany schools for three years. He received his M. D. degree at Baylor Medical College, Dallas, in 1935, serving his externe at Bradford Memorial Hospital, Dallas, being one of the two out of 125 graduates to receive this appointment, and his internship at St. Joseph's Hospital. For the past year he has been practicing medicine at Keller.

Inclined to Mercy.

DETROIT, Nov. 2.—(AP)—Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald intimated today that the good record made by Howard Fulger since he escaped from a Michigan prison 17 years ago might win leniency for him. The governor explained, however, he had no direct information of the case and declined to state his attitude positively until he could confer with Joseph C. NAVARRO COUNTY HAS SUBSCRIBED ASSIGNED DEMOCRATIC QUOTA

GREAT INTEREST SHOWN IN CAMPAIGN BY LARGE NUMBER INDIVIDUALS

With the Dawson and Purdon precincts reaching and generously over-subscribing their quotas; with substantial contributions from several prominent Corsicana citizens and numerous contributions from various smaller precincts, Navarro county had safely reached its quota of $1938 for the Democratic national campaign early Monday morning and it was indicated that a nice over-plus would be received before the day was over.

Judging from the great number of individual contributors to the fund, interest in the campaign is running high and Navarro county will probably surpass all past records in piling up its majority in favor of the Democratic administration at the polls Tuesday.

CORSICANA, TEX., NOV. 3, 1936

ROOSEVELT THE LEADER

Recently at Detroit Governor Landon expressed fear that the Roosevelt Administration constituted a threat to our American form of government. He objected to the emergency powers exercised by the President, forgetting that not long ago, he himself, advocated "the iron hand of a dictatorship" to conquer the depression. He drew a dismal picture of countries abroad where "the charter of freedom is no more" and he warned America to beware.

It is not likely that his forebodings will alarm many. Nobody in this country, not even Governor Landon, really believes that Roosevelt is a dictator or that he has the slightest desire to become one. Indisputable evidence to the contrary is visible on all sides. Take, for instance, this national election through which we are passing. If Roosevelt were a dictator it wouldn't be taking place. Nor would Governor Landon be exercising the right of free speech so liberally.

Intelligent people easily distinguish between leadership and dictatorship. As Edward A. Feline, Boston merchant and business man, said in an address not long ago:

"One of the issues of this campaign is clear. Is this a time when America needs great leadership? For whatever else has been charged against Roosevelt, none of his enemies has so far accused him of not being a great leader. They even accuse him of being a dictator in a land where free speech, a free press and complete freedom to criticize and denounce his Administration exist as strongly as ever; and one would surely have to possess superhuman power to make himself a dictator in such a land.

"Personally, I cannot see that he is a dictator; for important measures have been enacted over his veto and that could scarcely happen under a dictatorship. It remains true, however, that he has induced his party, as well as many leaders of the opposition, to support legislation of a kind which was never considered practical in America before; legislation to insure higher wages to workers, decent incomes to farmers, the abolition of child labor and relief of the unemployed."

Roosevelt has not the stuff of which dictators are made. In one of the gravest crises of our history he was a leader, who, as the New YorkWorld-Telegram stated last week, "could keep his head when all about him were losing theirs, who could remain calm eyed while the panic reigned, who could be different, who could experiment, who could sense the full size of the peril and take such chances as were necessary to the rescue . . . When all the petty stuff which boils to the surface of any political campaign—when that is gone and forgotten—and a few decades have been superimposed, we predict that they will be looking for a spot somewhere within view of the Potomac to build something grand to commemorate the name of one who licked a depression that was worse than war."

From general observation of political life, you might conclude that the fellows who make the shortest speeches last the longest.

JUST FOLKS

(Copyright, 1935, Edgar A. Guest).

AN IDEALIST FAILS

He tried to run his business on a very generous plan.
He was liberal with credit and and he trusted every man.
He gave no though to profit; never dickered over price.
In his costs he failed to figure what he paid for coal and ice.
He paid his few employees all they asked, and something more,
But before the year was ended came the sheriff to his door.

There's no doubt that he was honest; there's no doubt of his intent,
But the judge who heard his story said: "You haven't made a cent!
You're not fit to run a business! You could never make it pay.
You have sold without a profit. That to failure's sure to lead."
But he stammered: "I thought profit was a sign of human greed.

"I had high ideals of business. I believed it should be kind,
And the thought of taking profit I'd put furthest from my mind.
So I borrowed for the payroll. I was anxious, can't you see,
That my clerks would get their money, although none was left for me."
But the judge responded sternly, "That is all the proof I need.
You've heard politicians yelping .It is sinful to succeed."

LIQUOR ABOLITIONISTS

"In ten years you'll see something happen," prophesies Mrs. Henry W. Peabody, a prohibition leader who moved to Florida when Massachusetts voted wet. She thinks conditions are worse now than they were under the dry amendment, that "something will happen" to improve the situation, and that it's the young people who will do the improving. She's not a prohibitionist, she says—she's an abolitionist.

There are many minds about that. Most Americans still seem to think that conditions today, while objectionable in many ways, are not so bad on the whole as they were under a prohibition system that failed to prohibit and swamped the country with bad liquor and disrespect for law. But you will find many a liberal citizen who isn't satisfied.

There are moral problems, economic problems and safety problems. The last of these three may be the deciding factor.

If anything drives out alcoholic liquor, it seems likely to be the automobile. Drinking and driving don't go together. It was one thing for a tipsy man in horse-and-buggy days and street-car days to stagger to his seat and let old Dobbin or the conductor take him home. It is quite another thing to drive himself home, when excited or dulled by alcohol, in cars that become ever faster, and ever demanding more sober and intelligent control. And the airplane age apparently coming will demand still more sobriety.

There may soon be a good many modern abolitionists agreeing with Mrs. Peabody.

JURY WOMEN.

New Jersey, slow in some ways to recognize the triumph of feminism, is now admitting women to juries more freely. It is optional in the state courts, and in some counties the practice has been to continue calling men only for such service. Trenton, however, recently drew 281 women in a panel of 800; and with the opening of the federal court term in November, women will serve as jurors in Newark for the first time.

This practice seems to have grown faster in the western and middle-western states. There is no evident reason why it should not become universal. Women make conscientious jurors, and on the whole seem to show as good judgment and as much courage in that capacity as the men.

Why should anyone be surprised? Hasn't Mother always settled most of the family disputes? Administering the law to children ought to make a good training for the jury box.

Security owners seem to suggest that they're not kicking about dividends, but they're worried about subtrahends.

END OF THE OPEN SEASON —By Clive Weed

IMPRISONED SOULS

Millions grieve with Helen Keller for the death of her teacher and almost lifelong companion Mrs. Anne Sullivan Macy. It was this devoted woman who found Miss Keller, a seven-year-old girl, blind, deaf and apparently dumb, and set free her imprisoned soul.

This was one of the most remarkable human associations in history. Mrs. Macy and Miss Keller together became almost as one person. The teacher little by little reached the girl's blank mind, revealed to her the external world and awakened in her the world of ideas.

The girl proved to be a genius. The teacher, too, was a genius in her way. The bonds of that partnership were possibly the closest ever existing between two individuals. Eventually Miss Keller learned to speak and write, and established to a remarkable extent her individual contacts with the outer world of people and things, but the bond remained unbroken for 50 years. And in these latter years, when the teacher herself became blind, the sightless pupil reversed the service and became eyes and guide and nurse for her benefactor.

"My teacher has gone from me a little while," says Miss Keller, "but I shall feel her presence anew when my eyes are blessed with light, my ears saved unto harmony and my imprisoned lips set free." Butter luck to them both hereafter! And let the rest of us realize our blessings.

GOSSIP

It is easy for gossip-lovers to smile and wink at such a bond as seems to have developed between the British sovereign and the Baltimore lady. But it occurs even to a hardened newspaper man that it isn't necessary to assume any serious impropriety in that relationship and spread scandal about it.

Edward has made no mystery of it. His frank public appearance with Mrs. Simpson may be interpreted as a gesture of honest and fair intent.

It is ungallant, and perhaps injudicious, for either Englishmen or Americans to make insinuations. The lady may become Queen of England. If she does, a lot of folks on both sides of the water will blush for their own thoughts and words.

It might just happen that this lady would come to be regarded, when the first shock wore off, as a bond between two great English-speaking democracies.

A REMARKABLE STATEMENT

In his recent attack on the Social Security Act Governor Landon made an extraordinary suggestion to the American people. It was nothing less than that the United States Treasury could not be trusted to keep its books properly nor to seggregate taxes collected for old age pensions. He said:

"The worker's cash comes into the Treasury. What is done with it? The law requires the Treasury to buy Government bonds. What happens when the Treasury buys Government bonds? Well, at present, when there is a deficit, the Treasury gives some nice new bonds in exchange for the cash that the Treasury gives the Treasury. Now, what happens to the cash that the Treasury gives the Treasury? The answer is painfully simple. We have good spenders in Washington and they spend the cash that the Treasury gives the Treasury."

It is to be wondered how a man, nominated for the Presidency by a great political party, could have made such an unjustifiable statement. As United States Senator Robert F. Wagner declared in a recent radio address, it is doubtful whether Mr. Landon actually understood the significance of his own words when he painted such a fantastic picture.

"With irresponsible zeal," said Senator Wagner, "Mr. Landon goes so far as to charge that our Federal Treasury cannot be trusted to keep its books accurately. He paints a frightful picture of its old age trust funds being commingled with its general funds. He ought to be reminded that our Government has kept trust funds for various purposes since 1799. This is the first time in our history that any one in a position of Mr. Landon's responsibility toward the public has stated that the United States Treasury would defraud the American people."

Fontaine Fox is right; with all these amateur deer hunters prowling around, cows should have C-O-W painted on 'em to prevent mistakes.

Writing about public affairs is a thankless business. If you guess right, nobody remembers it. If you guess wrong, nobody forgets it.

STATE HOME LADS DEFEATED STREETMAN IN COLORLESS GAME

MANAGE TO SCORE TWICE IN IN EACH FIRST THREE PERIODS FRIDAY

Talylying twice in each of the first three periods of a listless and colorless contest, the State Home Lads defeated the Streetman High School eleven 40-0 on Garitty Field Friday afternoon in a non-conference affair.

Displaying none of the drive and power that had stamped them as pennant contenders earlier in the season, the Lads were apparently willing to loaf through the game and score only when the opportunity was forced upon them. Coach "Red" Clem used every available man in the course of the game in an effort to instill some life into his aggregation but most of his attempts were futile until the closing minutes of the game when he had an entire second string on the field.

Obviously outclassed from the start, the Streetman club fought to the end of the contest; and although they failed to threaten seriously to score, the visitors displayed a neat lateral-passing game that bothered the Lads considerble and made plenty of work for the secondary.

The Lads kicked off to Stretman but the visitors were forced to punt quickly and the effort was partly blocked, with State Home taking the ball on their foe's 31-yard stripe. Peterson picked eight and then lost three, Nichols added one, and then Tiner made it first down on the visitors 5 1-2 yard line with a 14-yard dash. Peterson crashed over the center of the line for the first tally, and Simpson added the extra point by placement.

The Lads regained the ball on the Streetman 21-yard line within a few plays, and Peterson tallied a second time on an off-tackle slant. Simpson missed the point and the quartet ended with the count 13-0.

On the fourth play of the second quarter, Hamill crashed through on a reverse spinner for a sixteen yard gain and a touchdown. The extra point was added to make the score 20-0.

Streetman uncorked a desperate passing attack that narrowly missed clicking. State Home took the ball near midfield and on a series of passes and end-sweeps took the pigskin goalward with Nichols finally going over for the tally, to end the scoring for the half.

After several minutes of listless play, the Lad backs crashed through to recover the second blocked punt in succession for a touchdown, with Tiner credited with the recovery, and Simpson adding the extra point. A few minutes later, Peterson, right halfback who has been out of the game for several weeks because of injuries, took a punt near midfield and with some good blocking at the start raced for a touchdown, untouched and unpursued for the last twenty yards. Simpson converted to end the scoring.

Coach Clem announced that the next game would be with Teague two weeks from Friday unless another practice game was matched for the latter portion of next week. While expecting a letdown after several games in a row, the former Baylor star was obviously displeased at the manner in which his charges performed.

Starting lineups:

Streetman—Ends, Anderson and Keel; tackles, Shaddix and Roberts; guards, McDaniel and Chandler; center, H. Coleman; quarter, Easterling; halves, P. Soleman and T. Steele,; fullback, A. Steele (capt.).

State Home: Ends, Hartley and Simpson; tackles, Martin, captain, and Perkins; guards, Rose and Wilder; center, Bullard; quarter, Tiner; halves, Hamill and Peterson; full, Nichols.

Officials: Seay (N. T. S. T.C), referee; Nolan (N. T. S. T. C.) umpire; head linesman, Ross (Southwestern.)

BABY PARADE AND SINGERS FRIDAY'S FEATURES OF FAIR

KERENS, Oct 31.—(Spl.)—With crowds increasing daily, the Kerens Fair had as one of its chief attractions Friday the Baby parade which was held inside the Fair building.

A huge "Shoe" placed in the center of the stage furnished the setting for the parade while Norma Jo White as the "Old Woman in the Shoe" ushered out some 27 children, dressed to represent almost every nursery rhyme character and every type of child imaginable from the typical American barefoot boy of today to Colonial maids of other years.

Jimmy Wright as Robin Hood won first prize and Betty De Jarnett as "Little Miss Muffet" won the second.

The singing convention which was held at 7 p. m. under the direction of Owen Sessions proved also a very entertaining and worthwhile feature of the day's program with the aerial circus and different shows on Midway completing the day's entertainment.

Freestone Highway To Be Paved During 1937 Road Program

The Fairfield PTA will sponsor a carnival in Fairfield Saturday for the benefit of the local association.

TEXAN VISIONS SMASHING WIN FOR DEMOCRATS

CONGRESSMAN L. A. JOHNSON CAMPAIGNING IN EAST FOR DEMOCRATS

Congressman Luther A. Johnson, now campaigning in the East in the interest of the democratic national ticket, gave out the following interview Wednesday which appeared in the Lima (Ohio) News:

Using the oft-repeated statement of a nationally prominent Republican leader of several years ago, Mark Hanna, of Cleveland, who said: "No President was ever defeated for re-election while wheat was $1 a bushel," Congressman Luther A. Johnson, of Texas, predicted a Nov. 3 victory for President Roosevelt while in Lima Wednesday.

The Texan, whose home is in Corsicana, himself has a republican opponent but so sure is he of re-election with the aid of the southern popularity of President Roosevelt, he is not conducting an extensive campaign in his home district.

To Carry Middlesex.

Congressman Johnson opened his nothern speaking tour in West Middlesex, Pa., where Gov. Alf M. Landon, republican presidential nominee, was born and launched his campaign in August. The Texan said windows in the Pennsylvania village were filled with Roosevelt posters and political leaders there expressed belief he would carry the county.

The state of Pennsylvania, the southern legislator said, is an "even bet" nationally although Maryland, viewed as a barometer of the national election, is "in the bag."

Democratic "shock troops" have been dispatched into the New England states, Congressman Johnson said, in a final effort to bring that area into the Democratic fold. Congressman-at-Large Stephen H. Young, of Ohio, left Cleveland Wednesday morning by airplane for Portsmouth, N. H., where he is scheduled to speak Wednesday night before a Democratic gathering.

Kloeb Is Praised.

Speaking of Congressman Frank L. Kloeb, of the Fourth Ohio district, Congressman Johnson said the nation "needed his leadership particularly in designing neutrality legislation which, he said, will be a major assignment of the forthcoming congress. The present law, which Congressman Kloeb drafted, expires next May 1.

Johnson left Lima Wednesday for Chicago but will return to Ohio Thursday, speaking in Celina, in Sidney, Friday, and Cambridge, Saturday.

Father and Son, Both Actors, Die In Malibu Lake

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Oct. 31.—(AP)—Trapped in an overturned automobile, Hugh Buckler and his son, John Buckler, both actors of British birth, were drowned at midnight in Malibu Lake, the sheriff's office was informed today.

The machine in which they were riding slipped from the road during a rain storm and plunged into the little lake on the shores of which many Hollywood celebrities live, the officers were told.

Malibu Lake, where the Bucklers had a home, is in the hills about 30 miles northwest of Hollywood.

Young Buckler, who appeared in stock in several American cities, came to Hollywood for pictures several years ago. For the last year he had been engaged in playing the villain in "Tarzan Escapades."

The tragedy did not become known until morning when residents of the lake colony saw the wheels of the Buckler car just above the surface of the lake.

The bodies were found within the machine.

CHINA CELEBRATES DICTATOR'S BIRTH AS JAPS THREATEN

NANKING, China, Oct. 31.—(AP)—Sino-Japanese friction injected a sombre note into China's celebration of the fiftieth birthday of its dictator, Chiang Kai-Shek, today.

A spokesman for the Japanese embassy said hope of an amicable settlement of Sino-Japanese issues was diminishing as the result of a "changed" Chinese attitude growing out of the day's activities.

Nanking's semi-official press failed to publish the felecitations sent to General Chang by Shigeru Kawagoe, the Japanese ambassador, although other foreign congratulations were carried.

The Japanese spokesman, pointlig to his omission as an indicaton of Chnese unfriendlness, cited the publicity given yesterday to a Chincse protest to the Japanese government against Japanese troop maneuvers in North China.

Other thousands covered neighboring hills to watch the observances which took the form of a presentation of 50 fighting airplanes purchased by a nation-wide subscription to commemorate the day. A majority of the craft were American-made.

After Gen. Ho Ying Ching, minister of war, accepted the fleet on the behalf of Chiang, the entire force roared over the capital in a demonstration designed to convince the crowd China's salvation lies in its armaments.

In a public statement, Chiang appealed to the officers and men of China's budding air force to "take cognizance of the hopes their countrymen repose in them to carry out the task of national salvation, demonstrated by the nation-wide presentation of air planes."

Jap Maneuvers at Peiping.

PEIPING, Oct. 31.—(AP)—While Chinese flags, honoring Chiang Kai-Shek's fiftieth birthday, whipped in the teeth of a gale, Peiping echoes today to the roar of Japanese field guns.

The guns spoke in accompaniment to maneuvers by 5,000 Japanese troops outside the south walls of the city. Formal protests against the maneuvers were made to Japanese authorities in Nanking yesterday.

A "march on Peiping" and a grand review on the Peiping golf club course four miles west of the city will climax the maneuvers next Wednesday. Last month Japanese meneuvers tore up the turf of the course and brought a protest from the club.

TEXAS CENTENNIAL SHOW WILL REOPEN FOR 1937 SHOWING

DALLAS, Oct. 30—(AP)—Fred Florence, president of the Texas Centennial Central Exposition, said today the $25,000,000 World's Fair would be reopened in 1937.

Demands by Dallas business men for a new exposition in 1937 caused the board of directors to announce a June 12 opening date for next year Florence said.

The majority of exhibitors will retain commercial exhibits on the exposition grounds and remodel them before the new show opens, the board said.

Harry Olmstead, general manager of the exposition, said:

"We are going to reopen in 1937 with a better and more expensive world's fair. It will be an entirely new show, better and smoother running by virtue of experience gained by operation of the 1936 exposition. Immediately after the close of the present exposition full plans will be announced for next year."

The Dallas exposition will be the only one operating next year, Florence said, and will be changed throughout except for the general layout of the grounds.

Dallas business men reported a boom in sales during the exposition months and predicted an encore for the show in 1937 would serve as a stimulus to Texas business.

The present exposition will close Nov. 29.

The 1937 exposition will be five weeks shorter, closing on Oct. 31.

FINAL DRIVE FOR NATIONAL CAMPAIGN FUNDS ON SATURDAY

SEVERAL PRECINCTS HAVE OVERSUBSCRIBED BUT OTHERS LAGGING

With contributions totaling $1451.10 early Friday morning on Navarro county's quota of $1938.00 for the Democratic National Campaign, B. W. George, Democratic State Committeeman; Mrs. R. B. Mitchell, member of the Sixth Congresisonal Campaign Committee and Fiance Chairman for the county, and N. S. Crawford, Democratic County Chairman, together with the 48 precinct chairmen and special finance committees were strenuously headed for the last round-up Saturday.

Mrs. Mitchell, keeping the records for Navarro county, in analyzing the county situation outside of Corsicana, states that Frost precinct has made the largest over-subscription on its quota of any precinct to date. The quota assigned Frost was $87.80 and $141.25 has been turned in. A whirl-wind campaign, put on in Frost Thursday afternoon, Mrs. Mitchell reported, resulted in securing $81.25 in less than three hours' time. $60 had already been received from the precinct. W. A. Sims is precinct chairman. Mrs. J. E. Laney was on the committee and G. L. Haley delivered the money to the Finance secretary.

Other Oversubscriptions.

Blooming Grove was the first precinct to reach and over-subscribe its quota by $22.50; Roane was second; with $4.95 over; Kerens, third, checked even on its quota of $151.00; Rice, the fourth, sent in $55.00, which was $2.20 above the amount requested; Corbet, the fifth, broke even with $13.60 and Richland, the sixth to "go over," gets credit for $48.50—an ever-plus of $6.30 on its quota.

Precincts almost reaching their quotas are Chatfied, Powell, Cryer Creek, and Emmett and those with substantial credits to date are Dresden, Pursley, Tupelo, Bazette and Navarro. Encouraging reports have been received from several of the smaller boxes.

Dawson, with a credit of $25, is expected to report today in full and chairman and committees at Barry, Emhouse, Eureka, Purdon, Zion's Rest, Drane and Rural Shade are being appealed to especially to push their contributions.

Wards 1 and 2 in Corsicana are lagging but those in charge in these precincts have promised to work diligently to bring up their quotas by Saturday.

Sixth District Record Good

Mrs. Mitchell, who served on the district committee four years ago states that it is a matter of record that sixth district made the best showing of any in the state in the Roosevelt-Garner campaign. Outside of the big cities, even raised more money than any other district and gave the ticket as big a majority as any district. Efforts are being made to maintain that record and the appeal to all loyal democrats in Navarro county is mde to contribute something to the campaign fund if you can, but by all means, go to the polls next Tuesday, so sixth district can pile up another tremendous vote in appreciation of the Roosevelt-Garner administration.

Those soliciting on the fund are again reminded that Federal statute requires that an itemized list of contributors, with their addresses and the amounts contributed, must accompany Mrs. Mitchell's report to headquarters. Send the contributions to Ballard George or Mrs. Mitchell at the earliest possible moment.

District Chairman George Optimistic

Seven precincts had gone over the top in the campaign for funds for the National Democratic committee while numerous others lacked only small amounts of getting their quotas, B. W. George, district chairman, announced Friday morning. He said reports from numerous precincts indicated their quotas would be raised by Saturday night.

Blooming Grove, Roane, Kerens, Rice, Corbet, Frost and Richland had "gone over the top."

Powell, Cryer Creek, Emmett have almost raised their quotas.

Chairman George said Navarro county was still about $500. behind its quota Friday morning, but he had hopes that the goal would be reached by Friday night.

"We are depending on each of the forty-eight precincts doing their part and many of them have assured us they will reach their goals by Saturday night," Chairman George continued.

Deliberalization Of Pension Law Is Signed by Woodul

AUSTIN, Oct. 31.—(AP)—Acting Governor Walter Woodul today signed into law a bill to "deliberalize" old age pensions and levy numerous new or increased taxes to continue pension payments.

The law also abolished the old age assistance commission and transferred administration to the state board of control. Members of the board had indicated Orville S. Carpenter would be retained as pension director.

Woodul said he later today would sign a bill authorizing issuance of interest-bearing deficiency warrants to meet pension payments until revenue from the new taxes starts flowing into the treasury.

The acting governor also approved a proposal extending the life of the Upper Colorado River Authority from January 1, 1937, to January 1, 1940, postponing the start of remission of taxes until next year and making other changes in the law. The flood control district is composed of Coke and Tom Green counties.

Woodul said he would not act on a resolution "interpreting" certain provisions of the restricted pension bill but would leave the matter to Governor Allred on his return from New Mexico. Some have contended the resolution should be vetoed because it would interfere with "deliberalization."

The resolution said the legislative intent "shall not be interpreted so as to consider the aid extended to pension applicants by friends and relatives in securing the necessities of life as income and resources of the applicant, and that in all cases 'income' of applicants shall be construed as meaning 'net' income."

KING EDWARD SAYS BRITAIN MADE EFFORT TO HUMANIZE STRIFE

LONDON, Oct. 30.—(AP)—King Edward told his parliament today the British government has "spared no pain" to check the brutality of the Spanish war and to keep it within its Iberian boundaries.

In his first address to the parliament as sovereign, the monarch declared: "I have viewed with concern and anxiety the events in Spain during the last three months."

The speech was read by the Earl of Onslow, acting as lord chancellor in the illness of Viscount Hailsham, on the occasion of prorogation of parliament. The king himself was not present. He will open the new parliament in state on next Tuesday.

"I am addressing you for the first time as sovereign," the king's speech said. "I desire before all to express once more my deep appreciation of the sympathy which has been extended to me and my dear mother in every part of my dominions.

"I have viewed with concern and anxiety the events in Spain during the last three months. The government has spared no pain to promote and encourage humanitarian efforts to mitigate the sufferings of the Spanish people. The navy acted in accordance with its high traditions, relieving distress.

"It has been the consistent policy of the government to attempt to localize the unhappy struggle. With this end they seconded the French initiative for a non-intervention agreement and energetically co-operated in its negotiations and application."

RETAIL BUYING IN SEPTEMBER SHOWED INCREASE IN TEXAS

WHOLESALE SALES OVER FEDERAL RESERVE DISTRICT ALSO INCREASED

DALLAS, Oct. 31. (AP)—Although retail buying at larger cities as reflected by department store sales evidenced a further expansion of 41 per cent from August to September, says the Monthly Business Review of the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas released today, the gain over the previous month was less than the average for this season.

Nevertheless, the Review says, it was 18 per cent higher than in the corersponding month last year. The bank's adjusted index of department store sales, however, declined from 107.2 per cent of the 1923-25 average in August to 103.1 per cent in September, the review says.

Wholesale distribution, as represented by the sales of reporting firms in five lines of trade, showed a moderate increase over the previous month, but exceeded that of a year ago by a wide margin. The number and liabilities of commercial failure in this district presented a favorable comparison with both the previous month and the same month last year. Debits to individual accounts at banks in 18 principal cities were 12 per cent larger than in August, and 29 percent larger than in September, 1935.

Rain in September came too late to be of much benefit to crops, the Review says. The Oct. 1 report of the Department of Agriculture said most of the crops barely held their own during the month and, in some instances, lower yields were indicated. This was especially true of the Texas cotton crop where the estimate was reduced 121,000 bales, and the current forecast is smaller than last year's production, the Review says.

Rain Provides Season

Offsetting this, the rain provided a good season in practically al lsections of the district and enabled farmers to proceed with fall plowing and seeding. Ranges and livestock improved rapidly and the Oct. 1 condition generally was above the average for that date.

Construction declined seasonally from August to September, and valuation of building permits at 14 principal cities during the month was 17 percent lower than in August, but 60 per cent higher than the total for the corresponding month of 1935. Although shipments of cement from Texas mills declined during September. The Review says, production showed a further moderate expansion. Production and shipments reflected a wide margin of gain over respective figures for the same month a year ago.

The Review reports total loans of reporting member banks at leading cities of the Eleventh district aggregate $221,851,004 Oct. 7, exceeding those of a year ago by $38,966,000, and were at the highest level since the early months of 1933. Their investments were increased $7,932,000 during the four weeks period, and Oct. 7 were $21,030,000 higher than on the corresponding date last year, The Review says.

Federal Reserve bank loans to member banks declined from $523,000 Sept. 15, to a low level of $145,000 Oct. 15. The reserve deposits of member banks established a new high record at $156,-116,000 Oct. 15, compared with $109,346,000 Oct. 15, 1935.

SKIN NOURISHING TREATMENT.

GENUINE SKIN TREATMENT.

Today Miss Forbes gives you a skin treatment which is genuinely nourishing which will cure wrinkles and smoth out the roughness of the dry skin.

E. K. Forbes

The best treatment for a dry or an ageing complexion happens to be an extremely cheap one. I hope you won't dislike it for that reason and pin your faith instead on some very costly cold cream out of a fancy jar. I can give you a guarantee based on many years of experience that the method I am suggesting today really is the most effective way of feeding an ageing skin and nourishing a dry one.

You will need for this only two things, a bottle of almond oil and a small jar of lotion. The cost is slight, you should get four ounces of almond oil for 50 cents, or not more than 75 cents, and for 25 to 50 cents enough lanolin to last you many months. I do not mean lanolin cream. If you ask for that you will probably be offered a prepared cold cream which will claim to have lanolin in it, and which may or may not contain it. The lanolin I buy is like an extremely stiff cream, too stiff to rub on the skin by itself except with difficulty.

You go through the usual procedure of washing your face with very hot water, and you hold the hot cloth over the skin until it is flushed red and until it is clean and until the pores have had time to open. Then you rub a lot of the almond oil over the face, as much as a teaspoonful. The skin absorbs a certain amount of this, it is lubricating and it goes on with the work of cleansing. Then you take a bit of the lanolin and rub this over the skin, letting it mix with the almond oil. Rub it all over the face with special attention to the parts under the eyes and under the chin where the skin goes crepy. Two or three minutes' massage will do, and if you can give it another few minutes to soak in, so much the better.

If at bedtime, leave a minute amount on the skin to be taken up during the night. If during the day, wipe off with a dry cloth or tissues and let this be a foundation cream. It makes a very good one.

Mrs. B. D.—Turkish baths are helpful in cleansing the pores all over the body, and also for inducing a great deal of perspiring. The reduction that some people get from them comes from the extra activity of the skin, through the dry heat, then the steam room. You should not be liable to colds of you rest after the bath, and also take the cold shower after the attendant is through with her work on your skin. The scrubbing, rinsing, and slapping your attendant will give you will produce a vigorous circulation, so you are toned all over by it. An alcohol rub is extra, and a precaution against taking cold.

SALVATION ARMY'S ANNUAL FUNDS DRIVE WILL OPEN THURSDAY

Mrs. Phil T. Rainey, state envoy of the Salvation Army, has set up campaign headquarters in the citadel here, in preparation for the Army's annual drive, which opens next Thursday, Nov. 5. Mrs. Rainey, has had charge of the annual drives for the past several years.

In connection with the drive, the following statement by President Roosevelt, will be read with interest here:

"As the Salvation Army's versatility has become recognized we have burdened it with public duties and responsibilities. Today we greet it as an indispensable factor among our resources for social, religious and humanitarian leadership. This simple, courageous and self-denying organization has shown the way in attacking the most flagrant of our social problems at their roots.

"Local communities must assist in raising funds to support local agencies," continued the president. "It is up to the privately supported agencies to meet the vast human needs."

The initial buying readily absorbed hedge selling and a moderate volume of liquidation. New business was restricted owing to pre-election influences so that trading was confined principally to trade account.

Liverpool and the continent were buyers here as the difference between New York and Liverpool widened further. Reports on the influence of the maritime strike on the movement of cotton abroad were being awaited.

Fair to partly cloudy weather prevailed over the cotton belt, except for scattered showers in parts of the west. The market moved over a narrow range following the call with the undertone holding steady. March fluctuated between 11.65 and 11.68 and prices generally were unchanged to 4 points net higher at the end of the first half hour.

Liverpool reported a small market with local support meeting light offerings. The New York Cotton Exchange service estimated worlds consumption of all growths during September at a new high record for the month of 2,311,000 bales against 2,155,000 in September last year and 1,915,000 two years ago.

The market turned easier later in the morning when foreign demand tapered off and liquidation continued. Hedge selling increased somewhat and by mid-day prices were down to the lowest of the session thus far representing net losses of about 5 to 7 points with March down 11.58.

Ed A. Potter was in a critical condition in a hospital, suffering body.

Mrs. Potter, who lived a short time after the explosion, told Deputy Sheriff Charles Cass that she arose at 6 a. m. and went into the kitchen to light a fire. She said the blast occurred when she struck a match.

Her nephew and her husband were asleep in an adjoining bedroom, she said. The wall between the two rooms was blown out. Bedding, furniture and the walls of the room were burned.

FEW INCIDENTS OF UNPLEASANT NATURE HALLOWE'EN NIGHT

Few untoward incidents were reported over the city Saturday night as a result of Hallowe'en celebrations, and only one arrest was reported by city officers as a result of rowdy behavior.

Officers started early Saturday evening to gathering sticks and clubs in the hands of celebrants, and bystanders reported far less than the usual amount of rough treatment for pedestrians in the business section.

As usual residential sections presented the normal traffic hazards of overturned trash barrels and debris in the streets, some yard and porch furniture overturned. Real estate agents signs also suffered considerable rearraigning according to reports received Monday.

A minimum of traffic accidents was reported with no serious injuries.

Wichita Falls Man Fatally Injured In Auto-Truck Crash

LUBBOCK, Nov. 2.—(AP)—A man identified as Edwin Horlock, Wichita Falls, was injured fatally in a truck-automobile collision about 5 miles south of Slaton early this morning.

J. B. Bundren, Lubbock, who carried the accident victim to a Slaton hospital, said the man told him his name was Paul Doak. Papers in the automobile led officers to believe that the victim was Edwin Horlock, about 26, a salesman for a Wichita Falls milling company. Mrs. Eugenia Horlock, Dallas, said the description of the man's body coincided with that of her son.

Driver of the truck was sought. Officers said he abandoned the machine, leaving the accident scene on foot.

Horlock's chest was crushed. Horlock checked out of a Lubbock hotel at 7:30 p. m. Sunday.

The recent election held at Eureka and Mildred was canvassed, showing that the voters in those two districts desired to consolidate the districts. The returns canvassed showed 21 votes at Mildred for the consolidation and none against, while at Eureka 32 favored and 16 opposed the consolidation.

The calling for $15,000 on the first issue of Road District No. 1 for payment and $5,000 of the second issue was authorized on the request of J. M. Tullos, county auditor.

STRIKE

for a five-minute recess.

History of Controversy.
Harrison began a recital of the history and background of the present controversy, going back to the early part of the 1934 strike."

"This is not a trial, nor does the investigator wish you to submit issues," Hamlet interrupted. "We do't ask you to defend statements. The purpose of this fact finding hearing is for you to bring out facts on the points you wish, so the investigator can decide on the witnesses to be called and the points to be investigated."

Sapiro then returned to the room.

"Your Honor, the Sailors' Union of the Pacific is withdrawing from these hearings," he said. "We will be glad to respond to subpoenas at any time, but we will not submit our case to controversial issues."

Admiral Hamlet told Harrison to resume and the hearing continued, with attorneys representing the Marine Engineers' Beneficial Association, Masters, Mates and Pilots of America, Marine Cooks and Stewards' Association, and the Pacific Coast Marine Firemen, Oilers, Watertenders and Wipers Association.

Expected to Defy Officials
GALVESTON, Nov. 2. (AP)—Members of the local International Seamen's Union are expected to defy officials at a meeting of the west district of the maritime federation of the Gulf here tonight and join the strike in support of West Coast units as did men of the I. S. U. in Houston last week. Maritime workers from Port Arthur to Brownsville will attend the meeting. Spokesmen said. If the seamen act the strike will be extended here. No American ships were in port early Monday. Foreign vessels are not affected.

Sympathetic Strike Spreads in South

HOUSTON, Nov. 2.—(AP)—A sympathy strike in support of Pacific coast maritime workmen spread today at Gulf ports in this section.

At least 18 ships were reported without crews. Six of the vessels' were docked in Houston. The others were in the vicinity of Port Arthur and Beaumont, Texas, and Lake Charles, La.

Pickets patrolled the waterfront of these ports. No violence was reported. Spokesmen for the strikers said pickets would seek to persuade longshoremen to remain away from their jobs as they reported for duty.

M. J. Dyer, vice-president of the International Longshoremen's Association, said at Galveston the Longshoremen were under contract and would continue to work ships as long as they were adequately manned.

Spokesmen for the strikers said foreign ships without American crews would not be involved.

Headquarters of the striking seamen said strikers at Port Arthur, Houston and other Texas coast cities would present their case before maritime representatives tonight.

Ships Worked at Beaumont.
BEAUMONT, Nov. 2—(AP)—While pickets of the Port Arthur Seamens' Union patrolled the municipal and Magnolia refinery docks Monday, two tankers and two dry cargo vessels were lifting cargo. The strikers claimed crews of all vessels were joining them in the strike but ship operators said only a few from each ship had joined the striking ranks.

The tankers Brilliant, the crew of which was claimed by the strikers, sailed for the Atlantic coast Monday morning.

Members of the International Longshoremen's Association were working both the dry cargo steamers, some passing through the picket lines Sunday night to work the Bull line ship Dorothy, and others Monday morning to work the Lykes Brothers' Almeria Lykes.

Houston Waterfront Is Being Picketed

HOUSTON, Nov. 2.—(AP)—Some 250 striking rank and file members of the International Seamen's Union picketed the Houston waterfront today as a walkout supporting Pacific coast maritime workers disrupted shipping.

The strike, which had caused no violence, remained "unofficial," Wilbur Dickey, business agent of the union, declaring no strike orders had been received from I. S. U. headquarters.

Of the five ships moored at the city docks three were being worked in preparation for departure and two were without steam because crews had joined the strike.

The Southern Steamship Company's San Antonio and Fort Worth were loading. The Texas Ranger, a Newtex ship, and the Ogontz of the Lykes Line were idle.

Reports circulated on the waterfront that a portion of the crew of the Fort Worth was ready to leave the vessel but had not done so at 9:30 a. m.

Spokesmen for the strikers said the freighter Prusa, docked at Long Beach, was being contacted in an effort to get her men to strike. Members of the grain ship Wisconsin, docked at Manchester, had joined the strike.

Port Arthur Claims
The union at Port Arthur claimed 12 ships in the vicinity of Port Arthur, Beaumont and Lake Charles, La., were crewless.

The Texas Company's tanker New Jersey, and the tanker Thermo of the Pennsylvania Company, were other ships in the Houston territory affected by the strike.

Spokesmen for the strikers said the picketing would be peaceful and that longshoremen would be asked not to cross the picket lines. Officials of the International Longshoremen's Association said, however, that the longshoremen were instructed to work all vessels able to furnish steam and adequate labor on ship.

Although no violence had been reported, Police Chief B. W. Payne sent city detectives to the waterfront.

"Sit-Down" at Galveston"
GALVESTON, Nov. 2.—(AP)—Seventy-six "rank and file" members of the International Seaman's Union at a meeting this morning voted a "sit down" strike on vessels at Galveston in support of the West Coast strike.

A commitee of eight men was appointed to handle details. Leaders of the strike said pickets would be posted. The American steamer Lammot Du Pont NKW loading a sulphur cargo is expected to be affected. At a meeting of the Gulf district maritime federation tonight efforts will be made to draw Longshoremen and other maritime groups into the strike.

Knox Asserts F. D. R. To Keep "New Deal"

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—(AP)—Col. Frank Knox, republican vice presidential nominee, charged in a statement issued today that President Roosevelt was determined to continue "the fight he began in 1933 to promote recovery by new deal methods."

"When President Roosevelt, in Saturday night's speech, declared repeatedly, 'we have just begun to fight,' his meaning was crystal clear," Col. Knox said.

"He could have meant nothing else but that he intended to carry on the fight he began in 1933 to promote recovery by new deal methods. If new deal means anything at all, it means an enforced regimentation of business, industry and agriculture."

ELECTION

over a loud speaker arrangement or be flashed on a screen across the street.

It will be impossible to make a complete county tabulation on the returns from Navarro county until all 48 boxes have been reported.

Texas Democratic leaders and officials have laid special stress on a heavy vote in this state despite the fact that it is expected to go overwhelmingly democratic. The main reason for the urgency of a large turn out to the polls is due to the fact that the two-thirds rule was abrogated at the last National Democratic convention and Texas' representation in the 1940 convention will be based on the vote Tuesday. Another reason is that Democratic leaders want a big vote as a compliment to President Roosevelt and Vice President Garner.

The Ballot.

In the Democratic column, candidates range from presidential electors to the precinct candidates nominated in the primaries of the past summer. The Republican ticket contains the presidential and state ticket as do the Socialist and Communist parties. Presidential electors only appear on the Union and Prohibition columns, while no electors are named in the Independent and blank columns.

The six proposed amendments to be voted on are:

1. For or against the establishment of a state dispensary system for the sale and control of liquor.

2. For or against the creation of a retirement fund for teachers.

3. For or against providing for payment of workmen's compensation insurance for employees of the state.

4. For or against the providing for a board of pardons and paroles and to make the governor's pardoning power subject to the recommendation of the board.

5. For or against fixing the salary of the governor at $12,000 per year and for increases in the pay of attorney general, comptroller, treasurer, commissioner of general land office and secretary of state.

6. For or against limiting every county to not more than seven representatives in the Texas legislature.

City Voting Places.
Corsicana balloters will cast their votes at the following sites:

Ward 1. Pickering Lumber Company office on South Seventh street, J. W. Wright, presiding judge.

Ward 2, No. 2 fire station on West Thirteenth avenue, H. W. Carson, presiding judge.

Ward 3, courthouse, A. N. Justiss, presiding judge.

Ward 4, city hall, J. D. Carroll, presiding judge.

At least 26 persons were injured in similar mishaps, all due directly to the storm.

Drizzling rain which started Sunday afternoon changed, with declining temperatures, to sleet and snow which blanketed most of Northern Utah, Southeastern Idaho and Western Wyoming.

Turkeys - Turkeys

Government estimate of this year's Turkey crop, twenty million head. This is entirely too many. You can help the dealers market this crop for best price possible by selling only your well matured birds, hens weighing nine pounds up, and toms fourteen pounds up. We think it would be wise to sell forty percent of Turkeys for Thanksgiving and keep sixty for Xmas. This is about the proportion the markets will take to best advantage.

OPENING PHASE OF BATTLE FOR GREEN ESTATE IS CLOSED

TESTIMONY CONCERNING THE AGREEMENT SIGNED BY WIDOW COMPLETED

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—(AP)—The first phase in the litigation surrounding the huge fortune left by the late Col. Edward H. R. Green, son of Hetty Green, ended today with the conclusion of testimony concerning an agreement signed by his widow in which she waived her rights to his estate.

The widow, Mrs. Mabel Harlow Green, contends that when she signed the agreement before her marriage in 1917, she was told its purpose was to provide her with "pin money." The agreement gave her an annuity of $18,000 for life.

The next hearing in the litigation will be held in New York on Nov. 18 when Surrogate Harry E. Owen of Essex county, N. Y., will hear testimony concerning Col. Green's residence. Three states, New York, Massachusetts and Texas, claim his residence in seeking inheritance taxes on the estate which is estimated at more than $70,000,000. Florida, where Col. Green maintained a winter residence, may also file a claim.

The only witness at today's hearing before Surrogate Owen was Walter P. Allen, Terrell, Texas, banker, who testified yesterday Mrs. Green had admitted to him four years ago that she had signed away her rights to the estate. Mrs. Green's testimony was that she never knew she had waived her rights until the agreement was read to her by her lawyer after Col. Green's death last June.

Allen was questioned today by George Wharton Pepper, one of Mrs. Green's counsel, as to why he had withheld this information when lawyers for Mrs. Green had questioned him several weeks ago, and then had given it to counsel for Mrs. Matthew Astor Wilks, sister of Col. Green and sole beneficiary under the will that is being contested.

Allen said he had been a lifelong friend of Col. Green and that when he learned Mrs. Green had charged she was tricked into signing the waiver agreement, he felt it was his duty to tell Mrs. Wilks' attorneys what Mrs. Green had told him.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—(AP)—Surrogate Harry E. Owen of Ecsex county considered today whether he would admit in evidence in the fight over the estate of Col. Edward H. R. Green, a paper reputedly showing the late financier's widow understood prior to her marriage that she had signed away her rights to his huge fortune.

Mrs. Mabel Harlow Green, the widow, is contesting with Col. Green's sister, Mrs. Matthew Astor Wilks, for the estate, variously estimated at $70,000,000 to $80,000,000.

Under a will left by the financier, Mrs. Wilks is beneficiary.

Mrs. Green contends she was under the impression the agreement signed by her before her marriage to Green in 1917 was to provide only "pin money," and that she was not aware she was waiving her entire claim.

Counsel for Mrs. Wilks introduced the paper containing the questions. It was signed by Charles W. Pierson, now deceased, who was Col. Green's attorney, and by George E. Warren, now vice president of the Chase National Bank, as witnesses.

Contents of the paper, made public by the surrogate, quoted Mrs. Green as saying she had read the pre-nuptial agreement, understood it, and did not wish to consult a lawyer of her own about it.

Warren testified he remembered the questions were asked of Mrs. Green by Pierson just before she signed the agreement.

Under the agreement she was provided with a $1,500 monthly allowance.

Walter P. Allen, president of the American National Bank of Terrell, Texas, testified Mrs. Green confided to him four years ago that she had signed away her rights to the Green fortune and sought his aid in having her allowance increased to $3,000 monthly.

Mrs. Wilks was reported ill and unable to appear as a witness at the hearings.

ITALY TO DOUBLE NAVAL PERSONNEL MEET ANY THREAT

ROME, Oct. 31.—(AP)—Italy intends to double its naval personnel, authoritative sources said today, preparing to meet any threat from England in the Mediterranean.

Naval sources also disclosed plans for development and expansion of the Italian war fleet.

Doubling of the naval personnel, just increased from 50,000 to 60,000 men, would raise it to at least 100,000.

The purpose of the move, it was said, was to match Britain's naval rearmament in order to maintain the ratio of Italian naval strength to the British fleet.

Following Mussolini's recent announcement to the cabinet that "several scores of warships are now under construction," naval sources said:

1. Many light warships from submarines to cruisers are being added to the two 35,000-ton battleships Littorio and Vittorio Veneto now under construction. Ten new submarines, of 600 tons each, are now completed, and, of short cruising radius, are destined to remain in the Mediterranean.

2. The navy will complete its system of bases. A strong base has just been finished on the island of Elba, pointing at France and the Northern Mediterranean. New works are to be constructed at Taranto, in the arch of the Italian boot, to make that one of the strongest in the Mediterranean. It is now Italy's principal southern base, and is strategically located.

3. Although Italy's land forces, which reached their peak of 1,200,000 men at the end of the Italo-Abyssinian war, are being demobilized, the naval forces have been kept at full efficiency.

JESSE JONES, RFC CHAIRMAN, MAKES PREDICTION BUDGET TO BE BALANCED AT EARLY DATE

DALLAS, Oct. 31.—(AP)—Jesse Jones, chairman of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, left with fellow Texans today a prediction that the national budget would be balanced "soon."

Speaking at a banquet in his honor last night, Jones coupled his prediction with a plea for the re-election of President Roosevelt.

"As for our fiscal matters," he said, "it has never occurred to me that the budget could not and would not be balanced soon. The first thing necessary was to bring the country back, so that it could be done."

Jones assailed "a few prominent members of the democratic party, as well as some republican speakers" for their "claim that the president has not adhered strictly" to the 1932 party platform.

"The spirit of the platform is of much greater importance than the letter of it," he asserted.

"So many sound, constructive and helpful things have been done by the Roosevelt administration that were not contemplated when the platform was written that it ill becomes anyone to complain about what has not been done, that the budget has not been balanced. The budget could not be balanced until business was balanced, and I should like to ask—was your budget balanced in 1930, '31 and '32? The answer is no. It is only balanced now because of the Roosevelt administration."

VOTERS WILL CAST BALLOTS FROM FAR AND NEAR IN NEXT TUESDAY'S NATIONAL ELECTION

By EDWARD J. NEIL

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—(AP)—What of expatriates still in good voting standing, of travelers far from home, of sailors out to sea when the nation next Tuesday elects either Roosevelt or Landon to the presidency?

They'll be voting, some 80,000 of them in all, by absentee ballot, and the wheels within wheels that make this part of election day go round have kept both major parties on their toes for weeks.

Democratic headquarters in Washington say the Roosevelt absentee vote will total 45,000 for the entire United States. They've been handling 1,300 applications a day for weeks, and expect 2,000 a day during the final week...The republicans say 35,000 absentee ballots will be cast for Landon...

Noatries do a landoffice business with absentee voters...ballots, applications, even envelopes must be sworn to...Each Alabama absentee ballot must be notarized four times...Fishermen may vote by absentee ballot in Massachusetts...and so may lighthouse keepers.

The democratic bureau has arranged special trains to take voters from Washington to Pennsylvania, Kentucky, New York and New Jersey...A party of 40 left for Oklahoma, where state law requires registration 15 days before election...A similar group of 20 left for Missouri.

Many government employees save up their vacations so they can go home to vote...One hundred school teachers in Puerto Rico vote by mail...Arrangements were made to get the votes of 16 American students in Edinburg University, Scotland.

One man telephoned the democratic bureau: "I'll vote this absentee ballot in a state 2,000 miles from here and yet I'll still do it orally, by mouth."...That stumped the workers until the speaker solved the riddle...He had lost both arms in an accident and had to mark his ballot with a pen held between his teeth....

CHAIRMAN OF NEW MARITIME COMMISSION TELLS OF EARLY LIFE IN "WILD WEST" TEXAS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—(AP)—Uncle Sam's new maritime commission chairman likes to refer to those days in Texas—"The Wild West"—when as a boy he became self-reliant, hardy, strong and "handy with my fists."

Rear Armiral Henry A. Wiley intended to be a soldier but found after passing the entrance examination for West Point, that he was too young for the army. Representative J. W. Throckmorton of Texas then appointed him to the naval academy.

"That was all right with me," Wiley remarked recently. "I just wanted to get out of McKinney."

In an autobiographical book he titled "An Admiral From Texas," the native Alabaman who rose to the navy's No. 1 fleet post, recalled how his family moved to McKinney when his father found himself "on his uppers" after the civil war.

"We arrived in McKinney when I was about one year old," Wiley wrote in his book. "Judging from my earliest memory of it McKinney must have been at that time a crude frontier town.

"In this atmosphere of the Wild West and without the restraint of discipline, I became self-reliant, hardy and strong and handy with my fists. I was always ready to mix it up with the toughest whites or blacks.

"I had the ambition, the single one, to become the village blacksmith—my idea of physical prowess combined with beauty."

Wiley recalled that he suddenly "turned from old ways" when he was about 12 years old. At the suggestion of his father, he said he proceeded to "a place called Denton" for the West Point examination, was first on the list and returned to McKinney "much set up." The age limit thwarted him and Throckmorton named him to Annapolis.

Admiral Wiley, commander-in-chief of the United States fleet, was 62 years old when he retired from active naval service in 1929. Today, at 69, he heads the government agency to govern the merchant marine.

FIRST HINT WINTER BOLSTERS TRADE MANY LINES; SHORTAGE HOLIDAY GOODS IS UNRELIEVED

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—(AP)—The first hint of winter bolstered the upward movement of many branches of trade this week, Dun and Bradstreet said today in the weekly review of business.

"As consumers covered differred needs generously," the agency said, "retail buying swung into a more accelerated gait, with an encouraging improvement in heavy apparel.

"The growing shortage of holiday merchandise and unrelieved delivery difficulties in other goods indicated the development of a seller's' market in the wholesale branch.

"General industrial operations were unchanged, near capacity schedules being maintained in more divisions to align production closer with rising demand."

Retail sales in the country as a whole were estimated to be 12 to 18 per cent over the same week in 1935. Percentage gains in the major geographical areas were: New England 15 to 20 per cent; East 10 to 18; Middle West 16 to 22; Northwest 20 to 26; South 20 to 30; Southwest 18 to 25, and Pacific Coast 15 to 27.

AUTHORITIES MAY EXHUME BODY FIRST HUSBAND OF WOMAN

FORT WORTH, Oct. 30.—(AP)—County authorities Friday considered exhuming the body of W. P. Wright, first husband of Mrs. Birdie Wilkins, 33, as they reopened the investigation of his death five years ago.

Wright died suddenly in 1931 and Mrs. Wilkins was held in custody for six days until an autopsy was performed.

Since her arrest this week on charges of murder in connection with the railroad crossing death of her third husband, Arthur Lee Wilkins, the matter of her first husband's death has been brought to the attention of the authorities.

City detectives Thursday brought to the district attorney's office a woman who had known Mrs. Wilkins for a number of years. The story she told prompted Assistant District Attorney Dawson Davis to hastily confer with chemists who examined Wright's viscera five years ago.

County records simply show that no poison was found in Wright's viscera. The chemists began searching their records to determine if any particular type of poison was sought. They explained that sweet arsenic, for instance would not appear if they tested specifically for something else.

The authorities are looking for another woman, who it is believed, can throw more light on the case.

Charged with Mrs. Wilkins in the death of Wilkins last Sunday morning is Luther Edgar Sumrall, who confessed that he drove the sleeping figure of Wilkins upon a railroad track.

A suit for a writ of habeas corpus was filled in criminal district court Friday in behalf of Mrs. Wilkins, claiming that she is not guilty and is being illegally restrained. Judge Willis McGregor set a hearing for 10 a. m. Saturday.

Mrs. Wilkins previously confessed that she plotted the death of her husband.

MOLLISON CRACKS SPEED RECORD FOR ATLANTIC CROSSING

BRITISH AIRMAN EXPECTS TAKE OFF FOR AFRICA IN SHORT TIME

CROYDON, England, Oct. 30. (AP)—Shattering all speed records for an eastward crossing of the Atlantic, Captain James A. Mollison landed here today only 13 hours and 17 minutes after hopping off from wintry Newfoundland.

Roaring across the stormy Atlantic in his Bellanca monoplane, the lone pilot averaged approximately 160 miles an hour to reach his goal at 9:57 a. m. (3:37 a. m. Central Standard time.)

It was the first time a flight with London as the eastern goal had been successfully completed without a forced landing enroute.

Mollison, who by today's flight became the first man to fly a plane across the Atlantic four times, was not even satisfied with that. "Possibly within a day," he said, he will take off on a record attempt to the tip of South Africa.

Counting the six hours and 41 minutes he took to reach Harbor Grace, Nfld., from New York, he had made the entire flight in 19 hours and 58 minutes.

Few Spectators Present.

Only a dozen spectators were on hand to cheer the veteran flier's brilliant success, made in the face of forbidding weather conditions.

Captain Mollison appeared exhausted when lifted from his plane. His first remark was:

"I am so damned tired. I am going to have a large Scotch and soda."

He said he had covered the 2,100 miles one hour and 12 minutes faster than his own advance estimate.

Although his wife, Amy, and co-partner in the famous team of "flying Mollisons" was not at the field to greet him, she was among the first to send congratulations.

"I am delighted over your successful safe crossing," she messaged. "The time was extremely good."

Wife Sends Compliments.

Amy 10 days ago announced her estrangement from her husband.

"I want at least one night's rest before going on to the Cape," Captain Mollison said.

"I am certainly glad to be here" he added, and grinningly caressed a rabbit's foot given by a girl in Harbor Grace.

"I didn't see Ireland at all and first got my bearings over Wales. I wasted an hour circling in mid-ocean trying to get rid of ice on the wing. The weather was bitterly cold and I flew through a blinding snow storm on the first part of my hop."

The actress Dorothy Ward, for whom Mollison's plane was named, said: "I am terribly happy. It makes me feel that I in a small way have helped his success. Jim is a very dear friend of mine. I am proud and thrilled to know he has won through."

KERENS COMMUNITY FAIR FINALLY GETS UNDER GOOD HEADWAY

KERENS, Oct. 30.—(AP)—Improved weather conditions enabled the Kerens Community Fair to really get under way Thursday. Although the parade, and some of the out of town entertainment were rained out, the fair is now in full progress as all exhibits are inside a large building of the Kerens Cotton Oil Co. Attractive booths have been decorated by merchants, Sunday school classes, town and community clubs.

Worthy of special mention are the Future Farmers Exhibits of Powell, Mildred, and Kerens; the community exhibits sponsored by the Home Demostration clubs of Long Prairie, Bazette and Independence, and the Chinese exhibit planned by Rev. M. O. Cheek, pastor of the First Baptist church, who spent five years as a missionary in China. Many out of town firms have representative booths.

Among the special features for Thursday were a band concert at 7 p. m. by the State Home Band of Corsicasa under the direction of Joel Trimble and several big free attractions by the Big State Shows on the midway.

Loot Found As Officers Search For House Prowler

City officers were engaged Friday in a city-wide search for a house-prowler who entered several homes in the western residential section and was forced to abandon a large portion of his loot along with his shoes when pursuers crowded him.

C. Wright, 1301 West Sixth avenue, called police about 2 o'clock Friday morning when he encountered a prowler leaving his house, and aided officers in a search of the neighborhood, later seeing a man walking along who fled across a backyard when he started his car.

Murphy Williams, 1229 West Fourth Avenue reported to officers that a man had been surprised in his home, and that a 20-guage shotgun was missing.

Early Friday morning a handbag filled with clothing, the missing shotgun from the Williams' home and a pair of fieldglasses taken from Mr. Wright's car were found in the 1400 block on West Sixth avenue. The clothing was reported by city officers to have come from the home of W. M. Huff, 1216 West Collin street. Along with the loot was found a pair of muddy shoes, believed to have been dropped by the prowler.

No arrests had been reported at noon Friday.

Purse Taken.

A purse-snatcher was reported to have been active within a few blocks of the business section Thursday night with Mrs. Alma Mitchell, the victim of his operations. Mrs. Mitchell was reported to have been en route from the business district to her home when her purse was taken. It contained several dollars in money, a pair of glasses, receipts and other items.

FULL DEVELOPMENT TIMBER ACREAGE IN TEXAS IS EXPECTED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—(AP)—Through creation of four national forests, the government hopes eventually to effect full development of 1,400,000 acres of Texas forest into productive timber lands.

President Roosevelt recently gave a national forest status to four tracts—Sam Houston, Davy Crockett, Sabine, Angelina—and the forest service said its preservation program would be directed by L. L. Bishop, its Texas supervisor.

About half of the total acreage has been acquired. The forest service gave the following descriptions of the tracts:

Angelina—388,000 acres, of which 135,000 have been acquired. Located in Angelina, Jasper, Nacogdoches and San Augustine counties, about 25 miles east of Lufkin. Commercial logging in the last 50 years removed most virgin timber, about 90 per cent having been cut over. Plans call for workmen to replant about one-fourth of the area to pine.

EXTRADITION ORDER REVOKED BY ACTING GOVERNOR WOODUL

HOUSTON OIL MAN WILL NOT BE RETURNED TO ATLANTA ON KIDNAPING CHARGE

HOUSTON, Oct. 31.—(AP)—Acting Governor Walter Woodul following a conference with attorneys for Frank Whitaker, charged in Atlanta with kidnaping his 7-year old son, today revoked a previous order granting extradition of Whitaker on the complaint.

Whitaker, who was placed in city jail Friday, will be released, Detective Captain George Payton said, as soon as he receives a copy of the revocation order, or instructions from Judge Langston King's court where a writ of habeas corpus, returnable Monday, was filed by attorneys for Whitaker.

The 32-year old oil man was charged by indictment last week in Atlanta with kidnaping his son, after taking the child from the mother's home and bringing him to Houston.

Whitaker stated that no final custody decree of the child had been issued by the court and that he believed he was entitled to him.

Whitaker and his wife had been separated for several years, he said.

Following his return to Houston last Sunday, Whitaker was charged before the United States commissioner here on a fugitive complaint, based on a federal charge filed in Atlanta. The complaint alleges he fled from Georgia to Texas to avoid prosecution on the kidnaping indictment.

When he was arraigned before the commissioner, Whitaker declared he had not realized he had committed any unlawful act in taking his child.

Bond on the fugitive complaint was set at $1,000 by Commissioner W. F. Carothers and a hearing was set for 11 a. m. Wednesday.

AUSTIN, Oct. 31.—(AP)—Acting Governor Walter Woodul today revoked a previous order granting extradition of Frank Whitaker of Houston, wanted in Atlanta, Ga., on a charge of kidnaping his seven-year-old son.

Woodul said Whitaker was not a criminal and that the trouble arose from a "misunderstanding."

"The father has agreed to send the child back to his mother in Atlanta," the acting chief executive said. "Then the parents will try to work out a satisfactory agreement relative to the boy's custody. If they can't agree, a court can settle the matter."

Woodul acted after talking to Whitaker's employer and his attorney, Andrew Buckner of Houston.

Whitaker said in Houston that he brought his son to Texas because the boy "wanted to come." He said he and his wife had been separated for some time.

Seventeen Seamen Killed and Fifteen Injured in Blast

AMSTERDAM, The Netherlands, Oct. 31.—(AP)—Seventeen seamen were killed and 15 injured today when three explosions turned the Greek steamer Uetrarkis Nomikos into a raging inferno.

The explosions, in the oil bunker, occurred while the vessel lay in her berth here. Nearby buildings, menaced by the burning oil, were evacuated.

Firemen were forced to fight the blaze from a distance because 14 tanks of oil remained unexploded.

A chaplain braved danger of fresh explosions to administer last rites to the injured, some of whom were reported dying.

Several firemen were injured fighting the blaze which followed the explosions.

Makes Second Trip To Northern Markets

Louis Wolens of the men's wear department of K. Wolens Department Store, left for St. Louis and other northern markets Sunday.

This is his second buying trip of the season and he states that it was made necessary by the unusually large fall trade that his firm has enjoyed so far this season, and that although he bought for a big season when he went to the market on his first trip at the start of the season, he failed to anticipate the big fall season rush that has taken place. He will be away about two weeks on this trip.
